

Poster Policy

Policy Summary

The George Washington University ("GW" or "university") encourages free expression and academic freedom, which are central principles to the mission of higher education and GW values. Students, faculty, staff, registered student organizations, and academic and administrative units may desire to display – e may also prohibited from displaying posters on GW-owned or leased property unless sponsored by a recognized GW student organization, or academic or administrative unit. Content on posters reflects the views of the respective individual, organization, or unit and not the university.

GW-residential, recreational, academic, support, administrative, or leased buildings may have their own procedures for displaying posters, including posting locations. These procedures shall not conflict with this policy, or any other university policy, but may be more stringent and students, staff, faculty, recognized student organizations, and academic and

